This is the time of year when every groaner in the music business from Bing Crosby to Elvis Presley is yopping about a white Christmas. Well, here it is. That white owl that comes out of the artic to predict the weather to the man who lives on West Island is uncanny. Fortunately for this bird, he is protected by strict game laws. From where we sit here, watching the drifts pile four feet high around the building, we may be in a position to contibute a great deal to scientific observation. According to recent theory, a new ice age might be in the offing. We will just keep an eye on these drifts and if they are still around by the first of June, the age of the great glaciers are back. If this proves true, Mattapoisett is sure of a ten page spread in "Life" as ten thousand New England golfers march in a body to Eisenhower's favorite retreat in Agusta, Georgia and set up a tent camp in the rough. On the one hunderdth anniversary of the Civil War, history may well repeat itself on the battle fields of Georgia. Having changed the course of history in a single paragraph, we will now relax until the plows make some order out of this mess by plowing all the snow out of the street back into the driveway which we just finished shoveling out. This is the kind of thing that keeps the

EXHIBITION OF ART WORK

An exhbition of art work was held at the Marion Art Center auditorium December 10 and 11 with Mrs. Ruth Faber of Mattapoisett, chairman of classroom activities, in charge. Included in the exhibit were works by the faculty for the fall semester, ceramics by Mr. Edward Gallego, oil paintings by Mr. Peter Busa, watercolors by Mr. Louis Sylvia, tray paintings and furniture decoration by Mrs. Dorothy Patterson and decoupage by Mrs. Mabelle Manning. The work of the children's Christmas gift classes, instructed by Mrs. Thayer Francis, Sr., assisted by Mrs. Walter Hellier, was also included in the exhibit. This class, unique in the area, has been one of the most popular ever sponsored by the Art Center, with registration for the class being completed shortly after the class was announced. Hostesses for the exhibit, assisting Mrs. Faber, were Mrs. Robert Bryden, Mrs. C. J. Hall and Mrs. Dorothy Patterson.

A magic miracle of modern chemistry, FLOOR MAID is a waxless polymeric formulation expressly created for heavy-duty use in public institutions. Anti-slip, waxless FLOOR MAID is safest and best for home floors, too . . . brightens without build-up, defies dirt, resists water-spotting and discoloration, prevents "pick-up" and "tracking" common to ordinary waxes. Its crystal-clear, lustrous finish brings back the life and beauty of your floor covering's original colors and patterns. Though self-polishing, FLOOR MAID is tough enough to buff if desired. Best of all, FLOOR MAID cleans in a jiffy with clear water only, needs recoating only half as often.

Mrs. Albert D. Furnans presided at the business meeting. A devotional service was led by Mrs. William V. Knapton.

Donations voted are $5. Plymouth County Health Association, $25. American Field Service, $250. towards the church insurance, $25. St Mark's Social Center in Roxbury and $25. to Retired Ministers' Fund.

Christmas cheer baskets will be packed on December 20 starting at 9:30 A.M. in the parish hall. The baskets will be delivered to the sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Robert Seeley has been named representative from the Guild on the Halloween Celebration committee. Mrs. George Hiller requested that Adventure in Reading lists be completed soon and given her so that she may make her State report in January.

The club received an invitation to attend the Christmas program of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club to be held Thursday, December 15th, in the parish hall. The next meeting of the Guild on January 10 will have as guest speaker Attorney Howard W. Young of Dartmouth who will speak on "Christianity and Politics".

Mrs. George Hiller and Mrs. Albert York presided at the tea table during the social hour held prior to the meeting. Mrs. Ira R. Hiller, 2nd, hostess, was assisted Mmes.
